RADIATION

Radiant heaters emit rays of energy which travel in straight lines, only converting into heat when they are absorbed by the receiving body.

Radiant Heat gives the greatest feeling of comfort.

ROOM HEATING

Convection heaters warm the room by releasing heated air and circulating it around the room. Convection heaters are the fastest heaters in the market.

CONVECTION

OIL FILLED HEATERS

In OFRs, oil is electrically heated inside the body of the heater, which when circulated heats up the surrounding air and warms the room. They are one of the most efficient and healthy forms of heating appliances as they are able to store heat for a long time even after being turned off and don't use oxygen for heating.
